ACTIVE CANVASS SOON TO BEGIN

Democratic Candidates Are Getting Busy.

A FEW WAITING FOR JAN. 25

Which is the Time Set for Closing Entries and Deciding Fees.

MATTERS ARE NOW SHAPING UP

Although the primary to select Democratic nominees for the various State offices to be filled by regular election in November is almost five months off, several of the aspirants for nominations are already making an active canvass. For at least two of the offices only one aspirant has so far entered the race, but it is expected that in several instances several of the prospective aspirants will make a formal announcement after the next meeting of the State executive committee, January 25, at which the time for closing entries and the fee of each aspirant will be made known.

The offices for which only one entry has so far been made for the nomination are Lieutenant Governor, with James P. Edwards, of Louisville the aspirant; and State Treasurer with Joseph Clay Van Meter, of Fayette county, the only man after the nomination.

There are only two candidates so far for Secretary of State. These are our Ohio county man, Mr. G. B. Likens, and Dr. C. F. C'eelius, a dentist of Falmouth. Mr. James E. Stone, of Breckenridge county, has been mentioned as a probable candidate for Secretary.

The nomination for Clerk Court of Appeals so far has not appealed to any of the office-seekers and no one has yet made a formal announcement for this place on the ticket.

The nominations for all other offices are said to be eagerly sought after, and from two to five aspirants are in the field for each, with the chances in favor of others offering their names after it becomes known what the exact amount each aspirant will have to pay to enter the primary. For the nomination for Governor, all five men who announced weeks in advance of the recent meeting of the executive committee are still in the race.

In some quarters it is said that one or two of the aspirants for this place on the ticket will likely withdraw, but so far none has made any announcement of such action. The aspirants for the gubernatorial nomination are: Ben Johnson, of Nelson county; James B. McCreary, of Madison county; John K. Hendrick, of McCracken county; William Addams, of Harrison county, and Mayor W. O. Head, of Louisville. For State Auditor three aspirants are in the field: W. M. Bosworth, of Fayette county; Ruby Lafoon, of Hopkins county, and Frank Hager, of Johnson county.

Three are after the nomination for the Attorney Generalship, with prospects bright for another entry before many days. Those who are seeking this place are James Garrott, of Adair county; O. H. Pollard, of Breathitt county, and M. M. Logan, while Ward Headley, of Caldwell county, will likely enter the race within the next few days. For Commissioner of Agriculture those who are seeking the nomination are J. W. Newman, of Woodford county, and Judge Ben F. Hill, of Henry county. Those who are working for the place of State Superintendent of Public Instruction are L. C. Littrell, of Owen county; Miss Nannie Catlett, of Caldwell county; R. E. Eubanks, of Fayette county, and Barkdale Hamlett, of Christian county.

At the meeting of the executive committee on January 2, all of the details governing the primary, including the date on which the entries will close, as well as the fee for each aspirant, will be made known. The question of whether the executive committee, at its meeting two weeks hence, will reopen the senatorial matter has been freely discussed since the meeting of the committee two weeks ago, and in some in the South.

quarters it is believed this matter will come up again for consideration.

MAYOR CONDUCTS RAID —FOUR ARE ARRESTED

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 6.—In a raid headed by Mayor Lambert on the pool room of Sam Rogers tonight shortly after 10 o'clock, the police arrested J. C. Slack, brother of former City Attorney R. W. Slack; Sam Rogers, H. E. Drury and William Minette for gaming. The four men were placed in the city lockup and will be arraigned before Judge Haskins to-morrow morning.

The raid was one of the most successful ever made in Owensboro, and not a man escaped from the gambling room. A crap table, poker table and a large number of poker chips were found. The Mayor was assisted by nine policemen, who worked under his directions.

"Maybe they'll think now that I'm going to carry out the orders that I issue," said the Mayor, as he walked down the street with his hand on the collar of one of the accused men. The Mayor says he intends to see that all of the gambling places are closed quickly.

MONSTER HOG KILLED AT BOWLING GREEN

Bowling Green, Ky., Jan. 5.—Mr. Charles Goodrum, who lives near the city on the Dishman Mill pike, holds the record for having killed the biggest hog ever raised in Warren county. During the present cold snap he butchered a porker that weighed 875 pounds. The hog was of a fine quality, and Mr. Goodrum secured a top price for it.

WAS SHOT TO DEATH BY BROTHER-IN-LAW

James U. Laswell, of Owensboro, Instantly Killed in Logan County.

James U. Laswell, of Owensboro, was shot and instantly killed by his brother-in-law, Morton H. Rogers, Saturday morning, at the home of Rogers' son, Booker Rogers, six miles south of Russellville, in Logan county, as the result of bad feeling that had existed for some time.

Laswell was shot twice in the back and died instantly.

Rogers claims self defense. Just what led to the tragedy of Saturday is not known, as Rogers declines to make a statement.

Rogers is sixty-nine years of age. After shooting Laswell, Rogers stood guard over the body until his son rode to a neighbor's house and notified the officers of Logan county of the murder, and that Rogers was awaiting their arrival to surrender.

Laswell, it is alleged, was hitching his horse to the front yard fence of Booker Rogers, and had his back to the door of the house, when Rogers stepped out of the door and opened fire with a shotgun. It is said that there were no eye witnesses to the tragedy, unless the inmates of the house saw the shooting affray.

County Judge J. W. Edwards, in company with the sheriff, who placed Rogers under arrest, went to the scene, where the county judge held an inquest. The remains of the dead man were taken to the home of his son-in-law, Fielden W. Clark, at Russellville.

AGED WOMAN BURNS TO DEATH WHILE PRAYING

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 6.—The charred body, in kneeling posture, beside ashes where once had stood her bed, of Mrs. Mary Samson, aged seventy, was discovered by neighbors after the aged woman's home at Metropolis, Ill., had been burned to the ground.

The woman evidently was in the act of praying when the flames surrounded her and, paralyzed with fright, she was unable to make any attempt at escape.

Mrs. Samson lived alone. She was the widow of Frederick Samson, formerly one of the best-known contractors of Southern Illinois, and a member of Company D, Fifth Missouri Infantry in the Civil War. She is survived by two sons, Walter Samson, of Massac county, Ill., and Andrew Samson, living somewhere

"INSURGENTS" WILL BE BOSSES

At Next Session of the United States Senate.

REPUBLICAN MAJORITY DOWN

To Eight, Will Insure Nothing Occurring to Weaken the Democrats.

A VERY PECCULAR SITUATION

Washington, Jan. 9.—The Republican margin in the Senate at the next session of Congress is still further narrowed by the death of Senator Elkins. This makes the Republican majority in the Senate at the next session eight, the margin being so small between the majority and minority parties that the little band of simon-pure "insurgents" will be in a position to hold absolutely the balance of power. Theirs will be a tremendously strong position at the next session and they fully realize the power that will be theirs. At the present session of Congress the Republican majority in the Senate is twenty-seven. As a result of the recent election, the Republicans have lost not less than nine seats in the Senate, now occupied by Senators Hale, of Maine; Carter, of Montana; Burkett, of Nebraska; Dick, of Ohio; Depew, of New York; Kean, of New Jersey; Scott, of West Virginia; Warner, of Missouri, and Beveridge, of Indiana. The death of Elkins adds another to the list and, unless further vacancies occur, the membership of the Senate when the Sixty-second Congress opens will stand as follows: Republicans, fifty; Democrats, forty-two; Republican majority, eight.

Republican Senators whose terms do not expire in March but whose Legislatures are now Democratic are as follows: Nebraska, Senator Brown; New York, Senator Root; New Jersey, Senator Briggs; Ohio, Senator Burton; Maine, Senator Frye; Nevada, Senator Nixon; Montana, Senator Dixon; Kentucky, Senator Bradley.

Here are eight Republican Senators who have from two to four years yet to serve, every one of whom in case of death or retirement would be succeeded by a Democrat. In addition to this there are three States where there is strong possibility of a deadlock, in the event of which the election of a Democrat is not impossible. These States are: Massachusetts, Delaware and Rhode Island. In Massachusetts Senator Lodge is fighting for his political life, and while the Legislature is Republican by a slender margin, a Democrat is apt to win. In Delaware, where a successor to Senator du Pont is to be chosen, and in Rhode Island, where a successor to Senator Aldrich is to be elected, there is no telling what the outcome will be. Senator Elkins will, of course, be succeeded by a Democrat, as the West Virginia Legislature now in session is controlled by that party and his death has brought the Republican party in Washington face to face with the possibility of losing control of the Senate before the 1912 campaign. This is not regarded as a probability, but it is certainly a possibility, and in any event, with the House overwhelmingly controlled by the Democrats and the Senate so close as to give the balance of power to the small element that has displayed unyielding hostility to him, President Taft faces the next session of Congress with more political embarrassment than any Republican President in a generation. He will have practically lost control of both branches of Congress.

More Candidates for Senator. Louisville, Ky., Jan. 9.—The statement is made here that Hon. Dave Smith, of Larue county, and Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn will enter the race for United States Senator. Senator Payne, for re-election, and Hon. Ollie James and Hon. D. J. Park, of Paducah, are already announced candidates.

The Ohio County Mutual Telephone Company met at McHenry recently and increased its capital stock from $2,500 to $5,000.

LAW OF MUCH IMPORTANCE

Is Now in Force Through-out Kentucky.

ALL THE BIRTHS AND DEATHS

In a County Must be Recorded Promptly With the Registrar.

PARTICULARS OF THE NEW LAW

Beginning with the present year and month, Kentucky took rank with the progressive States in our Union and became one of the first Southern States to take official cognizance of the advent and the passing out of the world of human beings who are born or die within her borders. That a civilized government should let the event of birth and death of humans pass without a note of its occurrence, will appear an inhuman act to all who will pause for a moment to give the matter due thought. That the cause of death is secured, is also a great aid in the battle now being waged against preventable diseases.

The certificates of births and deaths will be preserved for all time, protected against fire, mold and theft, and will become of inestimable value in years to come to prove descent, in aiding in the settlements of wards and guardians, to determine age for holding public office, jury service, voting, military service, entering the professions, liabilities under child labor laws, age of consent and of irresponsibility for crime.

The certificate of death which states whether or not the patient has died of a contagious, infectious or communicable disease, will enable the State Board of Health to put its finger with certainty upon the diseased spots of the State and enforce proper regulations and precautions, so that the needless slaughter by preventable diseases of the citizens of the State will be checked.

Local registrars for every county of the entire State have been appointed, commissioned and furnished with the necessary supplies to begin their work. Physicians are required to report within ten days the births that occur in their practice and to give the facts required upon the form of death certificate adopted by the Bureau of the Census, and provided for by this law.

The undertaker is required to procure the personal and statistical particulars with the signature of the informant and to procure from the physician the facts relating to the cause of death. This certificate is then presented to the local registrar, who issues a burial or removal permit.

It becomes unlawful for cemetery keepers, sextons or owners of private burying grounds to permit burials without a burial permit from the local registrar. A body cannot be shipped by a common carrier or other public conveyance without the authority of a burial-removal-transit permit, which requires the body to be so prepared that there is no danger of a spread of the disease en route, or when it reaches its destination.

Penalties are provided for failure to comply with the law's provisions by anyone upon whom a duty devolves.

Every good citizen should aid in making this law a success in every detail, as the good accruing therefrom to the masses of people will be manifold. Study its intent, and the details of its workings, and help to educate the public so that the greatest good may come from its operation.

CONFEDERATE VETERAN ANSWERED LAST CALL

WOMAN-LIKE, COULDN'T KEEP FROM TALKING

A strange woman, claiming Rockport, Ind., as her home, visited the Associated Charities at Evansville, pretending to be deaf and dumb, and asked for shoes, meat, lard and money. Her pretensions were to the effect that she could not read, and when a deaf and dumb interpreter was summoned, it was found that she could not understand the language of the mutes. She was informed that she could be furnished with clothes and a breakfast, but when the meal was announced, she forgot and spoke, saying that she had already dined, and that the lady she dined with had given her a quarter.

BOY IN KNEE BREECHES TAKEN TO PENITENTIARY

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 7.—The smallest and youngest prisoner ever sent to the Missouri penitentiary was delivered to Warden Andrae this morning in the person of Henry Gibson, of St. Charles county. This boy, who is barely sixteen years of age, in knee breeches and weighing eighty pounds, was convicted or murder in the second degree and sentenced to twelve years.

Warden Andrae was surprised when the boy was turned over to him and could scarcely credit the commitment papers. He directed that the boy be held in the reception room for prisoners until Gov. Hadley, through the pardon attorney, could investigate the case.

It is expected that the Governor will order the boy transferred to the Booneville reform school. The penitentiary, Warden Andrae said, is not designated by law for the punishment of juvenile offenders.

BLAZE AT GREENVILLE CAUSES LOSS OF $0,000

Greenville, Ky., Jan. 8.—At an early hour this morning fire was discovered in the dry goods store of L. Hummel, on Main street. The fire was confined to one building, and the entire stock of merchandise, amounting to about $9,000 was destroyed, and some damage was done to the building. The stock was insured for $7,000.

DARING BOY BANDITS ROB AND DO MURDER

Hotel and Street Car the Scenes of Their Work—Make Escape.

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 6.—William Muzzey, twenty years old, and Algot Johnson, bell boy and night porter, respectively, of the Hotel McKay, early to-day held up, robbed and shot at the night clerk. Then they bound and gagged two other men in the hotel basement and escaped with $50 belonging to the hotel.

Both were arrested and placed on a street car after a chase through the Interstate bridge district, and while being taken back to the city, asked that they be allowed to go inside the car. The request was granted. One of the youthful bandits quickly pulled revolver from a pocket that had escaped the notice of Policeman Harry Chesmore, who had made the arrest, opened fire on the officer and killed him. He was shot twice in the lungs and once in the forehead.

The robbers then held up the passengers and crew of the street car and at 6:30 o'clock made good their escape over the Northern Pacific railroad bridge, it is believed. Up to 10 o'clock the two bandits had evaded the police and citizens, a large crowd of the latter having joined in the hunt.

THEY SEEM TO NEED THE MONEY

In Their High Living at Washington,

EXPLAINS SOME OF REASONS

Why Cost of Running the Government is Increasing So Fast.

SEEM TO BE GOOD SPENDERS

[By Clyde H. Tavenner, Special Washington Correspondent of The Herald.]

Washington, Jan. 7.—Some of the reasons why the cost of running the Government is increasing so fast, and why it would really be possible for Senator Aldrich to save the people a lot of money if he would run the Government as a business man would run it, are revealed in the report of Secretary of the State Bennett for the fiscal year, 1910.

Vice President James S. Sherman drew on the people for $7,000 to maintain a touring car. He kept track of every puncture during the year, and saw to it that the people stood the damage. It might be presumed that after the Government had presented the Vice President with a handsome car, the man of the sunny disposition would at least insist upon providing the driver.

Mr. Sherman, however, not only charged the chauffeur's salary up to the people, but permitted the taxpayers to reimburse him for the auto driver's railroad fare back and forth between Washington and Utica, N. Y., Mr. Sherman's home town. But this isn't all. The Vice President made the people even pay for his chauffeur's "coat and pants," (See page 702 of report.)

Guggenheim Needs the Money. Senator Simon Guggenheim, of Colorado, one hundred times a millionaire and then some, had his daily newspapers and all the telegrams for the year charged up to the Government.

Senator William Lorimer, of Illinois, apparently had urgent business with a man named Browne, of Ottawa, Ill., and it is more than barely possible that the two Browns are one and the same. Oh, you Illinois statesman! Senator Lorimer also did considerable telegraphing to the Chicago beef barons—at the expense of the people. The nature of the business is not revealed.

TOM CARTER A GOOD SPENDER. The report intimates that when Senator Tom Carter, of Montana, escorted the members of the irrigation committee on a trip to the West to investigate irrigation projects, the party traveled like kings, using private diners, drawing rooms, and tipping the porters and attendants everywhere with a lavish hand—always, of course, with the people's money. For a two days' side trip in three automobiles fromasper, Wyo., to Pathfinder Dam, on September 7, 1910, the Montana Senator spent $150 for transportation alone. Although no one knows of any irrigation projects at Seattle, Wash., three senators and attendants managed to spend $125.30 for "board and lodging" at Seattle in two days. In the meantime their luxurious private cars sat on a siding unused. Senator Carter must have been a good spender. "Fees and portage" and "incidents" for which no vouchers were obtained, ran into the hundreds of dollars.

Some of the things the Senators in Washington made the people pay for were: Eight dozen lady scissors and one dozen manicure scissors.

Of Sensational Price Cutting!
Of Unheard of Bargains!
Of Rare Buying Chances!

One Solid Week

Sale Begins Saturday, Jan. 14

And Closes Saturday, January 21, 1911.

A Chance to Supply all Your Needs For a Little Money

Owing to the lack of a good tobacco season which also prevented money from moving, and the financial stringency which has made trade a little slow, we have failed to meet our bills as promptly as we should and we therefore need money and need it badly. Nothing else will answer the purpose. We know of no way of getting this money only by selling more goods. A little cash in hand now is much better than a large stock of goods on our shelves. We know times are close and "Economy" is the pass-word everywhere, but we are going to make such a sacrifice of goods at cost prices that the word "economy" will mean more in our store than anywhere else in the country. It will mean that you are getting goods at prices on which our competitors charge a handsome profit. It will mean a chance for you to supply your needs and yet have more money left in your purse than you usually do in such an emergency. It is the biggest price-cutting sale we have ever managed, and that is saying a whole lot. But we must do it. We can't help the circumstances, which are certainly more to your advantage than ours. You need the goods, we need the money. It will be a swap in which the big end of the bargain will be with you. Kindly scan the following list of prices and see if they don't sound pretty good to you. There is much we could not list because the printer said he could not stand the space. But it's all here—most anything you need in the Dry Goods line. Don't let this chance escape, for it will be a distinct money loss to you in the matter of economy if you do.

Read and act—that's the point.

BOLD BANDITS SHOT TO KILL

When They Robbed the Overland Limited.

MADE FLAGMAN CARRY SACK

In Which Valuables Were Deposited as They Passed Through Train.

THE PORTER WAS SHOT DEAD

Ogden, Utah, Jan. 5.—Wanton murder was committed early to-day by two bandits, who held up the Southern Pacific Overland Limited at Rees, and shot to death a negro porter and wounded another before relieving 100 passengers of all their money and jewelry. Although private detectives, posses and the police of Salt Lake, Weber and Box Elder counties worked all day, the bandits were not found. The Southern Pacific road probably will offer a reward of $5,000 for their apprehension. A similar reward is now standing for the arrest of two bandits who held up an Oregon Short Line train three miles north of Ogden, on June 27, 1910.

Because of the skill of the bandits in directing the train crews, railroad men are convinced that the robbers are old railroaders. The bandits not only displayed a knowledge of automatic block-signal apparatus, but also showed they were informed in the method of the operation of trains by the Southern Pacific. The semaphore with which they halted the train was ingeniously tampered with.

H. H. Hancock, flagman on the Limited, who was compelled to carry the sack in which the bandits collected the valuables, gave the following account of the robbery to-night:

"About 11:30 last night the train was stopped a mile and a half west of Rees Station by an intermediate block signal. I went east to protect the rear of the train. I had gone about a third of a mile when I was signaled by the engineer to return.

"Just as I was about to step to the rear platform I was confronted with two pumpkins and heard a stern command to get on the platform and do it quick. I climbed on just as the train started and two men followed me. As soon as we were together on the platform one of the men said:

"Here, you take this sack and hold it as we go through the train. Wait a minute. We will just take that watch you have."

"I jerked the chain loose from my vest and dropped the watch into the sack. Entering the car they found the door of the toilet room locked and one of them fired through it. Both carried sawed-off repeating shotguns and each had a revolver in a belt that was filled with shells. One man was about six feet tall.

"He had on new overshoes, his finger nails were long, his hands were white and soft. A blue handkerchief, with white spots, covered his face below the eyes.

"The other man was about 5 feet 7 inches, had a cut on one finger of the right hand and was quick-spoken. He wore a black mask and seemed to be the leader. As we passed through the first car the tall man kept me covered, while the short one ordered passengers from their berths. They were told to drop what they had in the sack.

"At one of the berths two young women protested that they did not have anything. The short robber pushed his gun violently against the breast of one and struck the other over the right eye with the butt of the weapon.

"In the second car they found two men sitting in the smoking compartment.

"When we came to the drawing room of this car Davis, the porter, tried to keep them from entering. The short man deliberately raised his gun and fired. Davis fell dead and Taylor, the other porter, snatched the robber's gun away from him. The bandit pulled his revolver and fired. Taylor dropped to the floor wounded.

"One of the robbers then started back around the corner of the drawing room, and I started to run through the train with the sack in my hand. I had gone but a car length when they overtook me, and with an oath the short man said:

"What do you mean by running away with that sack? We ought to kill you right here, but I guess we won't for a few minutes."

"We then entered the dining car, where Conductor Middleton was checking up. He was told to turn over his cash. He said all he had was 70 cents, and he dropped that in the sack. The robber demanded his watch, and he said he did not have one.

"Drop your watch in that sack and he quick about it or we will kill you," said the short robber.

"I told Middleton to drop his watch, for by this time I was convinced that they would kill any one who opposed them. He dropped it in."

CEDAR FENCE RAILS BRING FINE PRICES

Kentucky Quality Worth More Than Mountain Farms They Enclose.

Somerset, Ky., Jan. 7.—Fence rails being worth more than the farms they inclose has become an acknowledged fact in the Burnside section of Pulaski county, since it has been discovered that the quality of cedar growing there is the best adapted to the manufacture of lead pencils and large quantities of cedar timber have changed hands.

This is probably the only section in Kentucky where this character of cedar is found. High prices are paid for it. In some sections the small farmer with a little mountain farm which is fenced with cedar rails, has discovered that his fences are worth several times the value of his farm and that he can realize a small fortune from the sale of his cedar rails to the buyers for the pencil factories.

This has been instanced in many cases just across the State line, several miles south of here, in Tennessee. One man sold his mountain farm for $1,500 and the purchaser in turn sold the cedar rails from the fences for $5,000. Other instances of a similar kind have been related. The organization of a corporation for the manufacture of lead pencils has been completed, and the actual work of construction of the factory at Burnside, this county, has been started and is now under way. It will be completed by spring, when the new enterprise will be opened.

For some time Burnside has been headquarters for Eastern capitalists for the buying of cedar for pencil purposes. This point was selected on account of the character of cedar adapted to this purpose, being found along the bluffs of the Cumberland river for many miles above and below Burnside. This output has been shipped East and manufactured into lead pencils. It was seen that a great saving in the way of freight and labor could be had by establishing a manufacturing plant at Burnside. The factory is expected to be turning out its products in the course of a few months.

Saved Two Lives.

"Neither my sister nor myself might be living to-day, if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery," writes A. D. McDonald, of Fayetteville, N. C., R. F. D. No. 8, "for we both had frightful coughs that no other remedy could help. We were told my sister had consumption. She was very weak and had night sweats but your wonderful medicine completely cured us both. It's the best I ever used or heard of." For sore lungs, coughs, colds, hemorrhage, la grippe, asthma, hay fever, croup, whooping cough,—all bronchial troubles—it's supreme.

THE PENDULUM OF OUR POLITICS

Points Unerringly to Future Conditions.

HAVING ONCE SWUNG ONE WAY

It Cannot Swing Back in Two Years, Say the Knowing Ones.

BRIGHT DEMOCRATIC FUTURE

History points unerringly. In 1874 the Democrats carried the House of Representatives. Two years later Tilden was elected. Again in 1882 the Democrats swept the country. Two years later Cleveland won the Presidency. In 1890 the people repudiated an inordinate tariff and returned a majority of Democratic Representatives. Two years later Cleveland carried the country a second time and the Democrats won the Congress. Invariably the result of an intermediate election has presaged success of the winning party in the succeeding contest. Two short years do not afford sufficient time for the swinging back of the political pendulum.

Popular waves, even of resentment, recede slowly. The present condition parallels that of 1874, of 1882 and notably 1890, when the overpowering national issue was, as it was in 1910, excessive and discriminating protection of favored interests.

There is, moreover, additional hope for the Democracy in the fact that the opposition, hitherto united and solid, is now irreducibly divided. So far from welding the antagonistic elements into phalanx for unified defense and self-preservation, defeat has served only to widen the breach. Scars abound. Churlishness prevails. Lust of internecine vengeance dominates. The Appalachian range is the dead-line of the Republicans. Those of the East hold their former brethren of the West in derision and are met with defiance. Only the most consummate political sagacity, utilized by a politician as pre-eminent as Lincoln, could encompass so much as a truce. And Mr. Taft not only lacks the capacity of successful leadership himself but finds little or none among his advisers. The party call to arms anticipated at the opening of Congress was not sounded. Peace, peace, was the plaintive cry, when there was and could be no peace, except in response to virile and appealing demand.

The break continues between regularity and insurgency, between President and ex-President. If another election were held tomorrow every Aldrich would connive at the defeat of every Beveridge, every Cummins would pray for the downfall of every Kean—and each and every one would be gratified by the sharp responses of an indignant people. The ingratiating words of the President are as futile as an impassioned appeal from his predecessor would prove innocuous. Doubt of the directive abilities of the one is no less fatal to essential achievement than distrust of the sincerity of the other. For the time both Taft and Roosevelt are broken reeds and there is no other.—[North American Review.]

LYNCHINGS FEWER IN 1910—A TOTAL OF 47

Lynchings in the United States, excluding murders or killings in armed race conflicts, numbered only 47 in 1910, against 57 in 1909, 65 in 1908, 51 in 1907 and 68 in 1906. There are no official records of these occurrences, and newspaper dispatches sometimes record as lynchings what fuller information proves to be murders or killings in armed conflicts.

Of the 47 lynchings in the year just ended all but five were of negroes, and 25 of the 47 were for attacks on white women or girls. One of the most notable lynchings of the year was that of a Mexican burned at the stake for assaulting and murdering a white woman at Rock Springs, Texas, November 3.

All the lynchings of the year except the one at Newark, Ohio, were in Southern States. The record is as follows:

OUR HEAVY LOSS BY FIRE CONDITIONS NOW BETTER

Notwithstanding this country has the best fire fighting equipment in the world, it each year loses more than two hundred millions of dollars by fire. This is four or five times as much as is lost in all the European countries. The president of one of the fire insurance companies has said that if the loss by fire in this country could be cut down to seventy-five millions a year, the saving would be equivalent to adding a billion of dollars to the wealth of the country every ten years. The conditions are bad, but better than in former years, for concrete and steel are to some extent protecting cities from the holocausts of former days.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They do the work whenever you require their aid. These tablets change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, gloominess into joyousness. Their action is so gentle, one doesn't realize they have taken a purgative. Sold by all dealers.

MILLIONS OF LIVES.

An Awful Toll Collected by Consumption—Many Unnecessary Deaths.

If people could only understand that systemic external applications cannot cure, they would not need to be warned so often about this malady, which, when neglected, paves the way oftentimes for consumption, at the cost of millions of lives every year. Yet catarrh may be cured, if the right treatment is employed.

The only way to successfully treat catarrh is by employing a medicine which is absorbed and carried by the blood to all parts of the system, so that the mucous membrane or internal lining of the body is toned up and made capable of resisting the infection of consumption and other diseases.

We have a remedy prepared from the prescription of a physician who for thirty years studied and made catarrh a specialty, and whose record was a patient restored to health in every case where his treatment was followed as prescribed. That remedy is Rexall Mucu-Tone. We are so positive that it will completely overcome catarrh in all its various forms, whether acute or chronic, that we promise to return every penny paid us for the medicine in every case where it fails or for any reason does not satisfy the user.

We want you to try Rexall Mucu-Tone on our recommendation and guarantee. We are right here where you live, and you do not contract any obligation or risk when you try Rexall Mucu-Tone on our guarantee. We have Rexall Mucu-Tone in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Very often the taking of one 50-cent bottle is sufficient to make a marked impression upon the case. Of course in chronic cases a longer treatment is necessary. The average in such instances is three $1.00 bottles. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Hartford only at our store—the Rexall Store—James H. Williams, 214 Main street.

The Secret of Youth

Do you ever wonder how you can remain young, or why other women older than you, look younger than you do?

The secret can be put in a few words: "Preserve your health, and you will preserve your youth."

By "health" we mean not alone physical health, but nerve health, as, sometimes, magnificently strong-looking women are nervous wrecks.

But whether you are weak physically or nervously, you need a tonic, and the best tonic for you is Cardui.

It builds strength for the physical and nervous systems.

It helps put flesh on your bones and vitality into your nerves.

WEDNESDAY.....JANUARY 11

Have you got your New Year resolutions on straight?

You can now prepare to do your Fourth of July shopping early.

The farewell appearance of the Republican party is now in progress at Washington.

The farmers of the State of Ohio seem to have been raising too many votes to the acre.

They have had enough upheavals in Portugal to make most anybody leave, sick or not.

Every insurgent in Washington has so far shown himself absolutely impervious to pie.

They have quit chewing the tobacco question up in the Burley district and resolved to cut it out.

Evidently there will be a great falling off of the vote in Adams county, Ohio, for several years to come.

Lost, strayed or stolen—a New Nationalist party. Finder will please return to T. Roosevelt, care The Outlook.

The possibilities of hunting big game via aviation are said to be great. Teddy has already had a trial flight.

According to Gov. Marshall, of Indiana, the inquest showed that Senator Beveridge had been shot both in the front and rear.

It doesn't seem to strike some people that there may be something wrong with their thermometer as well as the weather.

Anyway, we ought to be able to put up with winter while it is winter rather than have to endure its rigors next summer.

With a little more practice and forethought, you will probably get it right. It is now written like this: one, nine, one, one.

No doubt Senator Lorimer, of Illinois, wishes Senator Frazier would quit picking the whitewash coating off his Christmas stocking.

A Cincinnati woman says she is not going to rest until kissing is abolished. She will probably live to be the greatest somnambulist ever.

Lord Roseberry says there is no doubt that the United States is the greatest democracy of the world. And the Democracy of our country will be even greater after 1912.

It is reported that Gov. Wilson, of Kentucky, is connected, in a business and financial capacity, with a law firm in Louisville, Ky. Will Gov. Wilson deny this over his own signature?

Judge Lamar, of Georgia, appointed a United States Supreme Court Justice by President Taft, is second cousin of the notable L. G. C. Lamar, of Mississippi, who was appointed to the Court by President Cleveland in 1888, and who served there until his death in 1893, with dazzling brilliancy.

The law permitting voters to express their choice for United States Senators is giving New Jersey some trouble as well as Kentucky. Governor-elect Wilson and many others believe that it carries a great moral obligation which should be discharged. It is certainly a cardinal principle of Democracy.

The law regarding births and deaths in every county is a new one in Kentucky and possibly has not received the attention that it should. There is a penalty for failing to abide by its provisions and all physicians, undertakers and others should take note of it. The Herald has taken pains to fully inform its readers on this matter and it has otherwise been given wide publicity. There should now be no failure of compliance with same.

A news item in the Louisville Times says a covered basket found on a doorstep and thought to contain a baby, was rushed to the city hospital but on the way was found to contain five little puppies. The account closes by saying: "After a consultation it was decided to take the contents of the basket to the City Hospital anyway, and the puppies were left in the kitchen of that institution." Wonder what they had for breakfast at the city hospital next morning?

The opportunity of young men to get employment at home or elsewhere, at lucrative wages, lies principally with themselves. They should first pick out some trade or calling and stick to it. This is a day of specialty, of concentration of effort. There is little employment for the jack-of-all-trades. The employer in any line of work wants to know what you can do, and then he turns you loose in that department of labor. Business men have no employment for idle hands. It is up to the applicant to show himself worthy.

Sometimes, in our criticism of another, we do not stop to think what we would have done if we had been born and reared under his environments and shoved out in the path which he seemed compelled to tread through life. Maybe we could not, of ourselves, have improved matters much. If we knew the inner side of the matter, we might have done just as he did. We never know, for a surety. There seems to be a destiny overshadowing some people which is hard to overcome. Carnegie is trying to overcome riches, while the balance of us are striving to overcome poverty.

THE DEMOCRATS MAKE PLANS FOR A CAUCUS

Clark's Nomination to be Made Unanimous—Committee Question Follows.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Plans have been perfected for the Democratic caucus of members-elect of the next House of Representatives.

First, Representative Champ Clark, of Missouri, will be nominated for Speaker.

Second, the caucus will decide upon the method of selecting the committees of the next House of Representatives.

Third, the tentative Ways and Means committee will be elected.

Fourth, a tentative Rules committee may be elected, though this matter is now in abeyance.

Mr. Clark will probably be placed in nomination by Representative Lloyd, of Missouri, the chairman of the Democratic congressional committee. His election will be made unanimous.

It is expected that the next matter to come before the caucus will be a solution of the committees problem. Representative Fitzgerald, of New York, and others who are in favor of the Speakers appointing the committees, will urge the adoption of a resolution to that effect. The Fitzgerald resolution will be voted down, and as matters now stand, a resolution empowering the Ways and Means committee to select all of the committees of the House will be adopted.

FEVER SORES.

Fever sores and old chronic sores should not be healed entirely, but should be kept in healthy condition. This can be done by applying Chamberlain's Salve. This salve has no superior for this purpose. It is also most excellent for chapped hands, sore nipples, burns and diseases of the skin. For sale by all dealers.

PARTY MACHINERY AND THE PARTY'S PLATFORM

Kentucky Democrats may be interested in the following extract from Gov. Marshall's message to the Indiana Legislature:

"There are two views with reference to party machinery; one is that its purpose is to formulate a platform, nominate a ticket, and then to drive the rancor and file up to the polls to vote that ticket regardless of the platform and the character of the candidates; the other view, and it is mine, is that party machinery is solely for the purpose of carrying on a campaign; that it has nothing whatever to do with nominations, and that it should not have any greater weight in the formation of a platform than the humblest member of the party."

A BIG DEAL FOR KENTUCKY LAND

Hollanders Purchase Over Million Acres.

MORE THAN $50,000,000 PAID

For Rich Coal and Timber Lands Which Will be Quickly Worked.

MANY NEW CITIZENS COMING

New York, Jan. 8.—One of the most gigantic deals ever put through in this country, involving the expenditure of more than $50,000,000 and the purchase of 1,100,000 acres of wood and coal lands in Kentucky, was closed at the Hotel Belmont in this city. The practical finishing touches to the closing of the deal were added the past two days. The purchasers are immense banking and capitalistic interests of Amsterdam and Holland. The price paid the Kentuckians for their lands averaged about $50 an acre, though the ultimate cost is figured at closer to $60 an acre.

The deal has been put through by B. F. P. Romer and Banker Boissevain, of the great banking family of that name. Both are residents of Amsterdam, and next to the Rothschilds, the Boissevains, of Holland, are the most powerful and wealthiest bankers abroad. The law firm of Guggenheim, Untermyer & Marshall, through the member of that great firm, Mr. Stine, who looks after such matters for them, represented not only the land owners, but the purchasers as well in the clearing up of titles.

The coal and timber lands lie in "Bloody" Breathitt, Knott, Letcher and two adjoining counties skirting the State of West Virginia. Four years have been spent in getting options on the acreage sought, and but six months were necessary in Holland in getting the big financial syndicates together and in working order. It was 1,300,000 acres that were wanted, but the purchasers had to content themselves with 200,000 acres less, as 1,100,000 was all the land obtainable in the desired localities. It is not so long ago that C. A. Watson, the Baltimore millionaire and the owner of fine show horses, and the Consolidated Coal Companies, created considerable of a sensation by purchasing 100,000 acres in the same coal and timber territory. It is intimated that the timber land in the purchase of the Hollanders is worth more than $100 an acre. The coal, running in average veins of 7 feet, is considered the best and finest for coking purposes in the known coal world. It is the intention of the new Dutch owners to first start in on the timber. To that end twenty large sawmills will be erected in various sections of the newly acquired territory.

The timber will be cut by woodmen of Holland and the sawmills run by sturdy Dutchmen from the same country, who will come to this country by the hundreds to settle in that part of Kentucky for the purpose. Railroads, to be constructed with other through-bound iron thoroughfares, are to be constructed, and soon that section of the Old Commonwealth that has been noted only on account of bloody feuds and the assassin's bullets, will be a busy bee-hive of industry, teeming with prosperity and blessed by peace. Mr. Romer arrived in New York on the St. Paul Thursday from Amsterdam. He, Banker Boissevain and Attorney Stine were since poring over the papers in the purchase, working most all of last night at the Belmont. This was done in order to give Mr. Romer the opportunity of sailing this morning for Dutch Guinea, where he goes to look after properties owned by himself and his Holland associates. Before his return to New York, inside of six weeks, the work of taking actual possession of the Kentucky properties will already have begun.

BIG CORN EXPOSITION IS NOW IN READINESS

Columbus, O., Jan. 9.—The program for the fourth annual National Corn Exposition, to be held January 30th to February 11th, in the eight immense buildings on the Ohio State Exposition grounds, has just been completed, and provides for one of the greatest National Agricultural Expositions ever held in the world.

More than 35 States will have competitive exhibits. Twenty-five State agriculture colleges and experiment stations will have scientific exhibits, each demonstrating its most advanced experimental work.

The federal department of agriculture will be represented with its famous exhibit which fills two large furniture cars, and which has just been returned from the international exposition at Buenos Ayres.

Speakers of nation-wide reputation will deliver addresses daily on the National Corn Exposition program.

FARMER BLEED TO DEATH FROM BITE OF A BOAR

Asheville, N. C., Jan. 8.—Before aid could reach him, Arthur Justice, aged 30 years, a farmer of the Pigeon River section, Haywood county, bled to death this afternoon after being bitten by a large boar which he had just been feeding. The animal attacked Justice from behind, burying its tusks in the flesh below the right knee joint and severing the main artery. Justice managed to get out of the pen, but sank to the ground a short distance therefrom. He died from the loss of blood before a physician reached him.

GROWERS VOTE TO CUT OUT 1911 BURLEY

At Lexington—Much Enthusiasm

Shown—Others Limit Their Acreage.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 6.—With enthusiastic cheers of approval the Burley Tobacco Growers' convention in session here Thursday, by practically a unanimous standing vote, decided to "cut out" the 1911 crop. Owing to the tremendous crowd, which was too large for the courtroom, the convention had to adjourn to the opera house, where fully one thousand delegates, growers and spectators faced Chairman June W. Gayle, who presided at the meeting.

Col. Harry Weissinger, formerly of Louisville, but now of Shelby county, was the principal speaker at the opening session. He declared that the only immediate remedy for the tobacco growers was the "cutting out" of the 1911 crop. Judge Ben F. Hill, of Henry; the Hon. J. N. Kehoe, of Mason, and others made strong speeches approving the elimination of next year's crop. The utmost harmony and good feeling characterized the convention and the slogan seems to be "get together."

Limit Acreage.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 6.—At a meeting of the American Society of Equity of the Green River District, held in Owensboro, resolutions were adopted limiting the 1911 crop of tobacco to 10,000 hills to the man, the same acreage as last year.

The Green River District Tobacco Growers' Association also held a meeting in Owensboro and adopted resolutions urging the growers not to increase the acreage of this year's crop.

Death of Mrs. Anna Layton. Rockport, Ky., Jan. 8.—On the evening of January 4th, at 10:30 o'clock, it was the writer's sad privilege to witness the death of Mrs. Anna Layton, wife of Dr. Charles Layton, dentist of this place, and daughter of Mr. Walter Russell, who has charge of the post-office here. Her many friends will remember that she was connected with this work for a number of months with her father, where she gained the love and confidence of not only the older people but the little children. All loved Miss Anna. To know her was to love her.

God gave her a mission and she certainly filled it with greater Christian fortitude and patience than is usually found in this eventful life.

TO HIGHEST COURT

NOVEL CASE TO GO

TO HIGHEST COURT

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 6.—The Court of Appeals will hear a rather novel case that is to be taken to the tribunal from the Circuit Court of this county. The question is, "Does the theft of dressed turkeys of a greater value than $2 constitute a charge of chicken stealing, or is it merely petit larceny?"

Wilbur Edwards, a negro, confiscated two dressed turkeys belonging to Mrs. S. P. Hayden, a local boarding house keeper, by whom he was employed, on the night before Christmas. He was tried and convicted, getting an indeterminate sentence of from one to five years.

His attorney contends that dead fowls, dressed, with internal organs removed, cannot be covered by the statute providing a special punishment made to protect hen roosts in the State. He says that the case will be taken to the Court of Appeals.

Stomach Trouble Cured.

If you have any trouble with your stomach, you should take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Mr. J. P. A pair of perfectly matched two-year-old mules were sold yesterday to Cliff Garrett, of the southern portion of this county, by Layne and Leavelle, for the round price of $525. The mules measured sixteen hands one inch in height, and weighed 3,100 pounds. They were black in color and had white points.

Miss Margaret M. Baker, of Hinton, W. Va., is visiting Mrs. Alvin Rowe, of Centertown, Ky., this week. Miss Baker was formerly of Centertown, but has been making her home at Hinton with her sister, Mrs. Rosco Sovers, since September, 1910. Her short visit at Centertown is certainly appreciated by her many friends, who are numbered by the score.

Miss Fern Curtis, of Hartford, route 4, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pate a few days last week. A select crowd was entertained at Finch in honor of Miss Fern last Wednesday evening. Besides the host and hostess, their guest, and little Miss Martha Carolyn Pate, those present were: Misses Isabel and Winnie Mauzy, Sadie Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Turner and little daughter Kathleen, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Watterson and son Randall, and Miss Georgia Severin, of Morganfield.

Once in awhile—but not often, thanks to the appreciation of the ordinary person—somebody gets mad at The Herald because their name or that of some relative does not appear among the society items of the paper. It is practically impossible for one or two men to keep track of all the visitors who may come or go in a place the size of Hartford. We have repeatedly asked the people to notify us of any visitors they may have. We aim to slight no one. Notwithstanding these pertinent facts, human nature seems to yet afford people, very few in number, however, who forget circumstances and take much offense because the types do not respond to their every movement.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF EQUITY MEETS

Much Business for Good of Order Transacted Last Friday and Saturday.

The Ohio County Union of the American Society of Equity met in regular session at the court house in Hartford Friday, January 6, 1911, President S. L. Stevens presiding and in the absence of Secretary C. E. Smith, F. L. Felix, assistant secretary, was at the desk. President Stevens in a few timely remarks called the meeting to order and while the resolutions committee was deliberating, Rev. Worth Wade was called upon and responded with a most excellent talk for the good of the order, urging immediate and unity of action in reviving the non-active locals throughout the county. Suitable steps were taken to carry out Rev. Wade's suggestions.

Saturday mornng, in response to a call from the delegates, President S. L. Stevens made an exhaustive oral report of the proceedings of the meeting of the National Union of American Society of Equity. After the routine work of the convention had been completed Saturday morning, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

S. L. Stevens, President; L. B. Tichenor, Vice President; H. M. Pirtle, Secretary; T. F. Tanner, Assistant Secretary; D. Ford, Treasurer. The stock committee, composed of former members L. B. Tichenor, S. L. Stevens and John M. Shultz, were re-elected. On motion, S. T. Stevens and Rev. T. H. Baldwin were unanimously elected as delegates-at-large and H. T. Porter, E. W. Jackson and L. B. Tichenor as delegates to the State Convention at Bowling Green, now in session. On motion a vote of thanks was extended to Secretary and Assistant Secretary for their work in the past.

Prof. T. H. Smith, of Hartford College, being called upon, responded in a 30-minutes speech, very interestingly entertaining the delegates along the lines of the organization, at the conclusion of which the meeting went into executive session. At the close of the session an adjournment was taken to a special session of the County Union called for the first Saturday in next March.

The Ohio County Baptist Mission Board held its regular monthly meeting at Pastor Bruner's home Tuesday morning. The roads being bad, there were only eight members present, but there was a lively interest in the meeting and some business of importance transacted.

Prayer meeting will be held at the church Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. Subject for study: "Weighed and Not Wanting," (Scripture Gen. 22:1-14). The meeting will be led by John X. Taylor, but all will have an opportunity to take part.

MOMENTOUS QUESTION IS SETTLED AT LAST

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 9.—It was stated to-night that Governor-elect Cruce has finally decided not to wear a silk hat at the inaugural ceremonies to-morrow. He will stick to the soft slouch hat of a Kentucky gentleman, the kind he has always worn.

This finally settles his inaugural costume, since he will wear the black Prince Albert coat and black trousers.

The Governor-elect will be sworn in on the old Cruce family Bible, the one given him by his mother years ago. Cruce first refused to wear a dress suit, but said he would wear the silk hat.

Turner-Turner.

The marriage of a very estimable couple, Mr. Lewis Turner and Mrs. Mattie Turner, was beautifully solemnized at the M. E. parsonage, Beaver Dam, Ky., January 8, 1911, at 2:30 p.m. by Rev. A. L. Mell.

Those invited were: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. D. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. P. D. Moore, Mrs. Mollie Herring, Mrs. Lizzie Austin, Miss Verda Loyd, Mr. Henry Shaver.

The bride and groom left immediately to visit friends and relatives in Fordsville and Owensboro.

After a few days they will be at home to their many friends in Hartford. We extend to them our hearty wishes for a long, happy life.

THE MARK OF QUALITY

Ever notice that the most reputable dealers say the least about guarantees and insurance? They have learned long ago that it does not pay. Strict business integrity does not allow of it unless strictly carried out. Few people do this. We try to buy the best goods obtainable, even at a sacrifice of our profit. But few stores show as many lines of real merit as ours.

MOST WOMEN ARE NOT WARMLY CLAD

They Suffer from Their Nerves
Because of Insufficient Clothing.

There wasn't any reason for it, a certain woman declared, but she was always tired. She was conscious that her temper was not of the best, though she had it under excellent control, and whatever she did, tired her (even her diversions exhausted her), so at last she called a nerve specialist.

He listened to her recital of trouble and shook his head gravely and then began to ask questions. "Do you wear high boots when you walk in the street?" She said she did not. "Do you wear cotton or silk stockings, or warmer ones?" She said silk. "Do you wear few underclothes, to appear sylphlike, or do you use flannel?" No flannel was her answer, and she volunteered that most of her gowns had half sleeves. Then the nerve specialist delivered himself of an opinion like this:

"You are like most women nowadays, you are not warmly enough dressed in cold weather. Cold saps vitality, which is strength. You are sufficiently protected from cold, your physical strength goes below zero, and then you proceed to live the strenuous life demanded of women, and go on your nerves."

"Cold is exhausting to a person who suffers from nerves. Conversely, warmth is soothing. You must keep the surface of your body thoroughly warm at all times unless you wish to grow old before your time. For premature age will be the price that women will pay soon for the fashion now of wearing insufficient clothing in cold weather."

"Don't for one moment fancy I think you should swathe yourself in flannels, or that I would have you wear hoseery made of yarn. You would select such garments as will prevent your own natural warmth from being dissipated during the first five minutes you are exposed to a cold wind."

"To almost every woman nowadays it would be safe to say: 'You do not conserve your natural strength. Keep warm and your nerves will be less strained. You won't be fussy and wrinkles will not appear. But if you don't wear such clothing as will protect you, then you will be profitable patients for nerve specialists as well as general practitioners.'"

Middlesboro, Ky., Jan. 4.—The Middlesboro post-office opened the postal savings bank deposit here Tuesday. Very few deposits were made, less than $60 for the first day's business. Miss Lillie Euster, a school girl of twelve years, was the first depositor and holds certificate No. 1 for $5.

Many of the miners will come to town the last of the week and then it is expected that the postal savings bank here will have a busy day. A new clerk has been added to the post-office force to help take care of the deposits. He is Edward Bosworth, of Lexington, Ky., and a brother of State Senator Joe F. Bosworth.

NEW YEAR RESOLUTIONS

Resolved, That I will be better in 1911 than I was in 1910.

Resolved, That I will do my day's work instead of doing my employer.

Resolved, That I will spend less than I earn.

Resolved, That I will stay at home nights—occasionally.

Resolved, That I will smoke in the shed—where there are no lace curtains.

Resolved, That I will play with the family cat rather than the clubroom kitty.

Resolved, That I will go to church—Easter Sunday.

Resolved, That I will eschew profanity and cultivate urbanity.

Resolved, That I will cement the seat of my trousers to the seat of the water wagon.

Resolved, That I will endeavor to distinguish between the cry of the coin and the call of conscience.

Resolved, That I will promote the common welfare—apart from the private graspers and the public grafters.

Resolved, That I will help some poor sinner over some of the rough spots of life, mindful of the fact that I might have been worse than he is if I had been born in his environment and had been pushed out on his path.

Resolved, That I will not forget these good resolutions.

HUNDREDS KILLED BY FEARFUL EARTHQUAKE

In Russian Turkestan—Entire City of Vyerny Laid in Ruins.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 4.—Frightful havoc was wrought by a violent earthquake in Russian Turkestan early this morning. Dispatches from various places in the province tell of heavy damage to property and great loss of life.

The seismic upheaval created large fissures in many places.

Practically all of the stores and residences at Vyerny, the capital of the territory of Semiriyetshensk, were destroyed or damaged.

Fitch filled the role of a piece of statuary with such ease and grace that he almost escaped detection by the officer.

Fitch feigned sleep, but through the narrow slits of his half-closed eyelids, watched every move of the officer as the latter groped about the dimly-lighted studio, searching for a burglar.

The hunted man might have escaped had not the officer, in his disgust at his supposed inability to find his man, leaned against the "statue," which immediately collapsed and in an instant the officer was engaged in a fearful hand-to-hand fight.

Numerous pieces of real statuary were broken by the officer and Fitch as they rolled over the place.

Fitch thought the matter a huge joke and declared he repeatedly has fooled the police of Pittsburg as well as elsewhere by his "statue pose." The police claim to have unearthed a real burglar.

Solves a Deep Mystery.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

WILL PROBABLY RESUME
COINAGE OF HALF CENT

Resumption of coinage of the half-cent piece is being agitated in some quarters, the principal argument advanced in its favor being that it would save money for buyers, especially the poor, who need it most. In all cases now where the half cent figures in the price of an article, the dealer gets the benefit of the half cent unless the customer purchases two of the articles. There are many things sold two for a cent, two for a nickel or two for a quarter, of which some purchasers desire only one. The half-cent piece would enable them to buy exactly what they want.

POEMS YOU'LL ENJOY.

The Herald's Special Selections.

1910.

And now the end of nineteen-ten approaches, and I settle back within my little cozy den,

And sort of look along the track that I have traveled. Here and there

I view the spots where roses red made everything to me look fair,

I view the barren spots and dead, the little hills where hope loomed high,

The valleys where grim failure stood,

But, as I come to say "Good-by," I close the book and mark it "good."

About me still are old friends true, who welcome me when I appear, and in the circle faces new.

There are that joined within the year.

Within the smoke that wreathes my head,

Ged's Acres, snow clad, now I see—

That sacred valley of the dead, the garden to eternity,

And there a few new graves I note, by which, heart-stricken, I have stood,

Despite the lump, that fills my throat,

Old year, I still must mark you "good!"

Off yonder in the distance I behold the plans that went astray,

But, towering taller to the sky,

I view the hopes fulfilled to-day,

Love, laughter, and the song of birds,

The wine of friendship—all were mine,

A volume filled with kindly words,

A little storm, a heap of shine, and as I view it, good and bad,

I'd rewrite it if I could;

Old year, in spite of moments sad, there is no doubt that you were good.

BURGLAR PLAYED "STATUE," BUT THE TRICK FAILED

Pittsburg, Penn., Jan. 6.—Standing motionless in a Northside photographer's studio with a winding sheet draped about his body, Fred Fitch, aged 44 years, was arrested at 5 o'clock this morning by Patrolman "Jack" Keenan and was held for Court on a charge of burglary.

Fitch filled the role of a piece of statuary with such ease and grace that he almost escaped detection by the officer.

Fitch feigned sleep, but through the narrow slits of his half-closed eyelids, watched every move of the officer as the latter groped about the dimly-lighted studio, searching for a burglar.

GUARDS WITHIN THE TOMB OF MRS. EDDY

Stand Ready, Day and Night, to Drive Away Inquisitive Strangers.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8.—When ten members of the New England Suffrage League who went to Mt. Auburn Cemetery in Cambridge to decorate the grave of Charles Sumner, this morning, had finished their duty, they journeyed across the cemetery to the tomb where the body of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, founder of Christian Science, has been under armed guard since her death.

The great iron doors of the tomb were closed but members of the delegation knocked and voice from inside asked them what they wanted.

"Is Mrs. Eddy here?" they asked.
"Her body is. What do you want?" came the answer.

"We have just paid tribute to Charles Sumner by putting flowers on his grave and would like to leave some flowers here," was the response. As soon as this was said the door flew open and two of the four guardsmen, armed with rifles, came out, and pointing down the wide path, ordered the party to leave.

"No one can come inside this tomb," said one of them. "Get away from here."

"We mean no harm—" began the spokesman, when one of the guards again pointed down the path and said: "Go away from here at once," whereupon the little delegation marched indignantly away.

"Simply obeying orders," was all the armed guardsmen would say later when questioned about the incident. At no time of night or day are all the guardsmen asleep, two being awake in shifts.

PEARY FINALLY OFFERS POLE DISCOVERY PROOF

Washington, Jan. 7.—Before the House committee on naval affairs, Commander Robt. E. Peary to-day presented his proof of his discovery of the north pole.

The commission which is determining whether he shall be awarded a recognition by Congress is hearing the story of his trip.

He related the incidents which took place after leaving Captain Bartlett, stating that he remained in the vicinity of the pole thirty hours. In answer to questions by congressmen, Peary said:

"Some experts say that figures and observations could be faked, but it would take an expert."

He did not make entries in his diary every day. After his word and observations he had nothing more to submit to prove that he had reached the North Pole. Representative Butler declared that he believed in Peary absolutely. Peary will appear again Thursday.

"Toting."

Catlettsburg, Ky., Jan. 6.—Late this afternoon Everett White, the young man held without bond for the probably fatal shooting of 18-year-old Charles Lowe on Tuesday night, because of their rivalry for the affections of a young woman, broke completely down and sent for Capt. Lew F. Chapman, to whose company in the State guard he recently belonged, and gave the following written statement to the Captain as a "warning to others":

"Dear Comrades and Friends: Take warning from an orphan boy, before it is too late to turn back. Cast out liquor and cigarettes and evil companions, and don't carry a gun around in your pocket and think that you are a man.

"I speak from my heart, and God knows I speak the truth, when I say that I am sincerely sorry for what I have done and if I could only have known before it was too late, God knows I would not have been in this place to-day.

"My first fatal step in the downward way was running around late at night, and then I learned to smoke cigarettes. After that I learned to drink, through older companions, and this was the last straw that put me here. Dear friends, just think of a youth not yet 18 years of age, being cast into prison with such a serious crime marked against him.

"Oh, if I only had another chance God knows, as well as myself, the right road I would follow. I ask all my friends to pray for me and I will pray the best I know how.

"Boys, don't let the devil come into your hearts. I hope that this may turn someone."

"Written by broken-hearted EVERETT WHITE."

Young Lowe has been taken to the home of his mother. He was her only support. There is said to be little chance for his recovery.

APPETITES OF THE BRITISH EGG EATERS

Beyond Ability of the British Hens
To Satisfy, and Prices

Are High.

London, January 8.—Notwithstanding the expectations of England, her hens have failed to do their duty, and, therefore, she is face to face with an egg famine. Prices very soon are expected to reach a figure unparalleled.

The English hen, however, is not entirely to blame for this state of affairs, for it appears, according to a report by Edward Brown, Secretary of the National Poultry Society, who has just returned from a trip through Germany, that the product of the alien hen is being consumed more largely at home, and this has led to a tremendous decrease in the number of eggs exported from other countries to this.

"I found," said Mr. Brown "that the egg is entering more largely into the every day food of the German, owing to the increase in meat prices. Last year we received 200,000,000 fewer eggs than in 1908, at the same time paying $200,000 more for them.

"Since 1907 the Italian egg supply to England has diminished by one-half, as have also the egg imports to this country from Austria and Hungary.

"France is in the same boat, the sum of $8,000,000, our average annual egg tribute to her, having declined last year to $3,000,000. It is only a question of time when Germany will absorb the egg supplies from countries touching her borders, which have hitherto sent their product to us. Unless there is a great egg development in the United Kingdom, an alarming shortage is inevitable."

RUNAWAY COUPLE WERE HEADED OFF

The Owensboro Inquirer says:

After notifying the police authorities at Owensboro and also the officials at Maceo and Rockport to be on the lookout for his 12-year-old daughter, Miss Sarah Wilhite, who was supposed to have eloped with Herman Shouse, the young girl was located about 2 o'clock on Saturday morning at the home of a friend at Maceo. Walter Wilhite, the father of the girl, took his daughter back to his home at Ensor.

Miss Wilhite and Herman Shouse, the latter working on the farm of Mr. Wilhite, left home Friday night, saying that they were going to attend a meeting of a literary society at Ensor. Later the father of the young lady discovered that the couple did not go to the meeting, but had eloped with the intention of getting married. The telephone was pressed into service, resulting in the apprehension of the girl before she was married.

PORTR WAS BEATEN TO DEATH FOR IMPUDENCE

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 7.—As a result of his impudence toward passengers on an in-bound Frisco train on Thursday morning, Jim Dunham, negro porter, 36, living at 332 Webster avenue, was literally beaten to death.

The negro made some impudent replies to passengers, whose names cannot be ascertained, and they beat him about the head and body until he was unconscious.

When the train reached Memphis the negro was hurried to the city hospital, where Dr. Burns, the Frisco surgeon, operated on the negro's head. The operation was not successful, however, and the negro died at 11:30 o'clock.

HOOKING FOR BUCKET FINDS BODY IN WELL

Georgetown, Ky., Jan. 8.—While Dutch Davis was fishing in a well Sunday afternoon for a bucket he had dropped in, his hook struck something soft, and pulling it up, he found the decomposed body of a man.

It proved to be that of Thomas Ross, a farmer of below Oxford, this county, who had not been seen since Christmas night. It is supposed that while wandering about he fell into the well, as it was but loosely covered with old planks, one of which was broken. Ross was unmarried.

MILLIONS ARE ON THE VERGE OF STARVATION

In China—Failure of Crops and Disastrous Floods

the Cause.

Shanghai, Dec. 13.—(Delayed)—Present reports confirm earlier advices of the suffering from famine in a district in the northern part of the province of Anhui, north and east of the Hwai and Kwo rivers, about 7,000 square miles in extent and containing a population of approximately 2,500,000 people.

The famine was caused by the destruction of fall crops through floods resulting from the heaviest summer rainfalls on record. Thousands of refugees have left the district, but many of those unsuccessful in seeking support elsewhere are already returning, preferring to die in their native place.

It is estimated that 1,000,000 people, hard-working farmers, will be dependent upon charity for their existence until the spring crops. Robber bands as early as September, desperate at the prospect of starvation, and some of them well armed, traveled through the country pillaging, terrorizing and killing. Serious trouble was only averted by the bringing in of troops over the new New-Tsin-Pukou railroad and by many executions of robbers in the Yamens or Government compounds.

Twenty-three inches of rain, it is reported, fell in twenty-four hours at one time of the rainy season, and the resultant floods swept away hundreds of villages. Thousands of the people are reported to have been drowned. A railroad bridge is said to have choked up with bodies and debris. The highest places, untouched in ordinary floods, were from one to three feet under water.

The people have been left so poor that they are able to plant only one-third or one-half of the usual amount of wheat sown. It will thus take several years for the region to recover. It is expected that the Government will send relief. The people and the gentry are also desirous of foreign aid and Chinese and foreign relief committees have been organized.
